

Auto Shift Cable

As the core of vehicle transmission system, auto shift cables play important rule in managing the speed of vehicles. They are widely used in trucks, coaches, farm vehicles and engineering machineries. Our automobile gear cables are made of HDPE, straight steel wires and PVC sheath. They are of high flexibility and have passed strict pull-out force tests. These products win unwavering reputation in national market and foreign market like South East Asia, Middle East, South America, and so on. We also provide customization service if clients have drawings or samples.
